OCTOBER AT LP QUINN

CYBERPULLYING AND INTERNET SAFETY PRESENTATION

Investigator Tim Connolly from Troop B of the New York State Police came to speak with our 4th, 5th, and 6th grade students about cyberbullying and the importance of internet safety. Thank you to Nina Tice Hair and the TLCSD PTO for arranging for his visit!

CONSTRUCTIVE STRUGGLING

The morning session on Superintendent's Conference Day focused on leveraging constructive struggle, the "sweet spot" where a task is challenging but achievable. The goal of using "the struggle" is to cultivate independent learners who view challenges as growth opportunities. All LPQ instructional staff participated in this session. We dove into sections of a text titled Faster Isn't Smarter by Carol Seeley. We'll continue this work with Dr. Derek Staves when he visits the first week of November.

UFLI

The teachers who participated in UFLI training earlier in the fall lead mini session with small groups of teachers reinforce the importance of systematic phonics instruction. Pictured above are Brittany LaBarge and Kathleen Fletcher providing instruction to their colleagues.
